

Oxford-Cambridge Celtic Colloquium

Cambridge, 20 May, 2006

PROGRAMME

10.30: COFFEE, Foyer, Fisher Building, St John's College

11-12.30: SESSION 1, Boys Smith Room, St John's, Chair, Máire Ní Mhaonaigh

11: Rob Crampton, 'The Lost Book of Kilbride'

11.30: Harriet Thomsett, "'I alone escaped to tell thee": the elusiveness of medieval Irish semantics'

12: Helen Imhoff, 'Theological concerns in Aided Echach meic Maireda'

12.30-2: LUNCH, Wordsworth Room, St John's College

2-3.30: SESSION 2, Boys Smith Room, St John's, Chair, Fiona Edmonds

2: Mark Williams, 'Taliesin as sywedyd and Geoffrey of Monmouth's astrology'

2.30: Fiona Salisbury, 'The figure of Arthur in Chwedyl Iarllles y Ffynnawn and Ystoria Gereint uab Erbin'

3: Lowri Hughes, 'Rhydychenese: Oxford and Wales in the Late Nineteenth Century'

3.30: TEA, Foyer, Fisher Building, St John's College

4: SESSION 3, Boys Smith Room, St John's, Chair, Paul Russell

4: Glenda Newton, 'The simplification of compound verbs in Middle Irish'

4.30: Nick Zair, 'Dybo's law: an Italic-Celtic-Germanic sound change?'

5: Liquid refreshment in nearby pub

7: Dinner, Allhusen Room, Trinity College